FY 2024-25, Reflecting Deeper Participation

MCX continues to deepen its place at the heart of India's commodity ecosystem. As India's commodity derivatives market expanded in scale, participation and global relevance, the Exchange reinforced its role as the country's trusted platform for transparent price discovery, risk management, reliable settlement and, above all, market integrity.

Advancing the vision of exchange-discovered spot prices gained traction in areas such as the valuation of gold and silver financial instruments, strengthening the relevance of credible, India-centric market signals. Beyond bullion, the launch of Electricity Futures introduced an exchange-traded instrument for a critical sector, while Cardamom Futures brought organized market access closer to the spices value chain.

Behind this progress is an integrated market infrastructure built around technology, clearing, delivery and participation. A strong technology foundation supports innovation and scalability; the clearing corporation reinforces settlement confidence; and the delivery ecosystem connects exchange-traded contracts with physical commodities. Together, these strengths enable MCX to power India's commodity markets with greater transparency, credibility and resilience.

India's Largest Commodity Derivatives Exchange

Established in 2003, the Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited (MCX) is a state-of-the-art, commodity derivatives exchange where producers, traders, institutions and investors come to a single regulated platform to discover prices and manage commodity risk.

The Exchange offers futures and options across bullion, energy, metals and agricultural commodities, cleared and settled through its wholly-owned clearing corporation. Operating under the regulatory framework of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), MCX combines a high-availability technology platform, strong R&D and a culture of innovation with ethical conduct and robust quality standards-the qualities that have made it India's benchmark commodity exchange and one of the largest in the world.

Vision

Your Company envisions a unified Indian commodity market that is driven by market forces and continually provides a level playing field for all stakeholders ranging from the primary producer to the end-consumer; correct historical aberrations in the system; leverage technology to achieve exceptional efficiencies and ultimately lead to a common world market. MCX also envisions a brand image that identifies it as the Exchange of Choice not only by direct participants in the commodity ecosystem but also by the general public.

Mission

MCX shall accomplish its vision by relentlessly endeavouring to enhance awareness and understanding of exchange-enabled trade in commodity derivatives. The Exchange will continue to minimise the adverse effects of price volatilities; providing commodity ecosystem participants with neutral, secure and transparent trade mechanisms; formulating quality parameters and trade regulations in conjunction with the regulatory authority. Moreover, it will continue to enforce a zero-tolerance policy toward unethical trade practices-attempted or real-by any participant/s; and invest in the all-round development of the commodity ecosystem.

- Electricity
MCX Electricity Futures is India's first exchange-traded electricity derivative, launched July 10, 2025, benchmarked to the volume-weighted average price of the Day-Ahead Market on the Indian Energy Exchange, enabling round-the clock hedging without physical delivery. The contract provides participants with a structured platform to hedge electricity price volatility and participate in the financialization of India's power markets.

Market Relevance

As a large net importer of crude oil and gas, India's domestic costs are closely linked to international benchmarks; MCX's rupee-denominated contracts provide a natural, domestically accessible hedge against both commodity price and currency risks.

Electricity prices in India continue to experience significant short-term volatility due to weather conditions, fuel prices, renewable intermittency, and regional supply-demand imbalances, thus reinforcing the increasing need for structured hedging tools. MCX Electricity Futures provides a financial risk-management layer, helping stakeholders stabilize costs and revenues in one of the world's fastest-growing electricity markets

- Futures on Cotton, Mentha Oil and Cottonseed Wash Oil, Kapas, with Cardamom Futures introduced during FY 2025-26.
- Effective FY 2025-26, the Cotton Futures contract was restructured from a candy-based system to a bales-based system, with the trading unit revised to 25 bales (from 48-candy contracts) and the delivery unit fixed at 100 bales, to better align with textile mill and ginner practices.

- Cardamom Futures launch and the Cotton contract's shift to a bales-based structure reflect your Company's continued efforts to enhance contract design and usability for industrial users and value-chain participants.

Message from the Chairman

MCX remained India's market leader, with over 99% of the country's commodity derivatives market, and earned wider global recognition. In the Futures Industry Association's 2025 rankings, the Exchange was, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest commodity options exchange, and also became the world's fourth-largest commodity derivatives exchange, by the number of contracts traded during the year.

Dear Shareholders,

It is with immense pride that I present the Annual Report of MCX for FY 2025-26, a defining year in which your Company reached new highs and further strengthened its role as a vital pillar of India's financial architecture. At a time when transparent, resilient and credible price discovery is central to economic stability and market confidence, MCX continued to deliver robust operational performance, deepen institutional trust and advance India's commodity derivatives ecosystem. The year also marked significant progress in reinforcing India's position in the global commodity markets, with landmark developments in Good Delivery Norms and domestic price benchmarks further strengthening the Exchange's contribution to efficient price discovery and the country's growing global market integration.

The Year in Context

The global economy navigated a dynamic year, the value of transparency, regulated price discovery and risk management, and the role of exchange-traded derivatives in sound business planning.

India, meanwhile, maintained its position as the world's fastest-growing major economy, supported by resilient domestic demand, sustained public investment and a steady push toward self-reliance in strategic resources. A Futures Industry Association survey early in the year pointed to the strongest growth expectations for commodity derivatives in the Indian market, an outlook that aligns closely with the nation's economic trajectory and with the growing need among Indian enterprises to manage commodity price exposure.

Sustained Market Leadership

Against this backdrop, MCX remained India's market leader, with over 99% share of the country's commodity derivatives market, and earned wider global recognition. In the Futures Industry Association's 2025 rankings, the Exchange was, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest commodity options exchange, and also became the world's fourth-largest commodity derivatives exchange from sixth a year earlier, by the number of contracts traded during the year. This standing rests on foundations built over two decades: a trusted, well-regulated platform, a widening product suite, and the confidence of a growing community of participants. It translated into one of the most rewarding years in your Company's history, with trading activity, participation and profitability all reaching new highs, and the value created being shared with shareholders even as the Exchange continued to invest in its platform, products and people.

A Trusted National Commodity Price Benchmark

Beyond these measures of scale, the role your Company plays in the wider economy is a particular source of pride. MCX's prices are increasingly accepted as trusted Indian benchmarks, supported by the growing use of domestic, exchange-discovered prices for domestic transactions. MCX spot prices are also being used for purposes such as the valuation of gold and silver Exchange-Traded Funds. Each step in this direction strengthens the country's financial self-reliance and brings the benefits of efficient price discovery closer to the value-chain participants who need them the most. This progress reflects the essence of our vision of 'One Nation, One Price': transparent, India-centric benchmarks that serve our industry, our investors and our policymakers alike.

Policy momentum has been encouraging, with the Union Budget 2026-27 advancing the Viksit Bharat roadmap through measures spanning critical minerals, plantation crops, wider market participation and the continued formalization of the economy. As the nation progresses toward these ambitions, a deep, liquid and trusted commodity derivatives market will form an essential national infrastructure, and your Company is well placed to serve as its cornerstone.

Governance and Trust

Underpinning all of this is trust, and trust rests on governance. Your Company remains committed to the highest standards of corporate governance, sound risk management and full regulatory compliance. As a Market Infrastructure Institution, we regard our regulatory responsibilities as the foundation of market integrity, and the Board continues to strengthen its oversight of risk, technology resilience and stakeholder interests, so that growth advances with safety, fairness and market integrity. The Board's diverse composition and the strength of its committees provide the independent oversight on which sound decision-making depends. Equally, we remain mindful of our wider responsibilities to our people, to the communities we serve and to the environment, pursuing inclusive and responsible growth through investor education, social initiatives and the prudent stewardship of resources.

Looking Ahead

The opportunities before your Company are greater than at any point in its history. We will pursue them through continued product innovation; sustained efforts to broaden and deepen participation among retail and institutional investors, both domestic and foreign; expansion across all commodity segments; and strategic partnerships that extend the Exchange's reach and relevance, in India and internationally. Deeper engagement with financial institutions will be central to building the liquidity and depth that a market of national importance requires, while closer collaboration with international exchanges will extend India's presence in the global commodity landscape. With a clear strategy and a strong foundation, I am confident your Company is well prepared to convert this opportunity into enduring value.

On behalf of the Board, I extend my sincere gratitude to SEBI and other Regulators for their guidance and support; to our members, clients and partners for their trust; to our employees for their dedication; and to you, our shareholders, for your steadfast confidence in this institution. Your support has carried MCX to every milestone it has achieved, and I am confident it will carry us to many more in the years ahead.

Warm regards,

Dr. Harsh Kumar Bhanwala
Chairman

Letter from the MD & CEO

India's commodity market is entering a transformative growth phase. Rising industrial and energy demand, a formalizing agricultural value chain, the push for self-reliance in critical minerals, and India's deepening integration with global markets together present an immense opportunity.

Dear Shareholders,

Fiscal Year 2025-26 was a defining period for your Company, marked by strong growth, broad based participation and progress across our product and market ecosystem. Total income more than doubled to ₹2,429 crores, and profit after tax rose 138%, total average daily turnover (Total ADT) increased by 145% to ₹5.4 lakh crores, with broad-based growth across Bullion, Energy and Base Metals. Your Company also became the world's fourth largest commodity exchange by the number of contracts traded in 2025, as per Futures Industry Association.

The strong growth achieved during the year was the outcome of MCX business strategy, focused execution and continued investment in the capabilities of the institution. The key drivers for growth were product innovation, technology and operational excellence, increased participation and tightened risk controls.

It further strengthened its role in the commodity ecosystem by facilitating a proactive, transparent market-based price discovery, improving access to hedging mechanism by creating a marketplace where price risk can be identified, transferred, and managed efficiently. This has enhanced the resilience of value-chain participants while contributing to more efficient and transparent commodity markets.

We expanded our member base, introduced new products, deepened participation and strengthened our delivery, technology, compliance and risk-management frameworks.

Our strategy has remained focused on expanding the commodity ecosystem. We have continued to identify opportunities where we can create greater value for participants, while investing in the infrastructure, processes and capabilities required to deliver at scale. This approach has enabled us to grow our business while strengthening the foundations of the institution.

Beyond operational performance, a key structural impact this year lay in redefining domestic price benchmarks – including expanding institutional adoption – and transforming physical delivery frameworks through comprehensive Good Delivery norms. These initiatives advance India's transition to be an influential price setter.

A Record Year

Operating efficiency supported significant margin expansion, with the EBITDA margin reaching 73% and the net margin 55%, even as we continued to invest in the future with earnings per share also increasing to ₹52.22 from ₹21.96 a year earlier. This financial strength was complemented by deeper market liquidity and broader participant diversity, while our Core Settlement Guarantee Fund strengthened to ₹1,367 crores. MCX Board recommended a dividend of ₹8 per share, reaffirming our commitment to rewarding the trust you place in us.

During the year under review, the your Company achieved a record single-day turnover exceeding ₹25 lakh crores, a peak later eclipsed by a milestone of ₹45 lakh crores toward the end of Q1 of FY 2026-27. The Futures Industry Association's 2025 data ranked MCX as the world's most-traded venue for gold, crude oil and natural gas options, and second for silver options.

Deepening Participation

Expanding our member base and participant ecosystem remain cornerstones of our growth. Through close collaboration, addressing evolving needs of stakeholders, fostering deeper engagement, and enhance market accessibility and relevance.

On this foundation, participation deepened across segments: traded clients grew 61% to 20.9 lakhs, while your Company's network expanded to 583 Members and 32,044 authorized participants. We have witnessed healthy growth of new members, institutions and Value Chain Participants.

We advanced institutional engagement through a dedicated dialogue on enhancing participation in Base Metals derivatives and convened 'Metals - From Mines to Markets; an event graced by the Chairman of SEBI, to chart the path for growth of Base Metals derivatives. Investor education remained a key priority, supported by over 2600 investor seminars conducted nationwide, including 210 regional programmes organized jointly with SEBI, and a broad spectrum of investor focused initiatives. These efforts were further enhanced through the release of Commodity Insights Yearbook. The annual student quiz, COMQUEST 2026 drew over 12,500 students from 940 colleges, with women accounting for about 44% of participants. The Exchange also hosted the 7th MCX Awards, recognizing 88 stakeholders for their contribution to India's commodity markets. The exchange invested in CSR initiatives across rural development, healthcare, education, livelihood, water conservation and sustainable energy, directly benefiting over 50,000 individuals.

Innovation across the Product Suite

Our product strategy has been an important driver of this growth. We continued to introduce products and enhance existing contracts based on the evolving requirements of producers, consumers, traders and financial participants.

Our growth reflects a consistent approach: staying close to the market and responding to its needs. We introduced Electricity Futures, India's first, giving power producers, distribution companies and consumers an effective hedging mechanism; added Cardamom Futures for the spices value chain; and launched Gold Ten Futures, bringing 10-gram, India Good Delivery gold within reach of retail investors. We launched modified Nickel Futures with a smaller trading lot to welcome MSME participants and also moved its expiry to align with global settlement cycles; launched Silver Monthly Options; and relaunched a market-aligned Cotton Futures contract. We also refined existing contracts, including a shorter delivery tender period for Bullion and Base Metals, to keep them closely aligned with the physical market.

A Robust Delivery Ecosystem

This responsiveness extends to our delivery ecosystem, where physical-market stakeholders continued to place their confidence. Base Metals deliveries took cumulative volumes to about 5.80 lakh tons since their transition into compulsory delivery contracts, while Bullion deliveries reached new records.

During FY 2025-26, physical delivery of gold through the exchange mechanism touched 21 tons, while silver deliveries surpassed 401 tons, highlighting strong participation in exchange based physical delivery. The growing use of MCX spot prices as domestic reference benchmarks affirms the confidence the ecosystem places in the Exchange's price discovery and integrity of our settlement.

Compliance and Risk

As we have expanded our reach and scale, we have remained rigorously focussed on strengthening the frameworks that underpin the integrity and resilience of the markets. Compliance and risk management remain central to our ability to deliver with the highest level of trust.

Cyber risk controls were reinforced through proactive monitoring, enhanced safeguards, and tightened security protocols. Continuous investment in core technology, scalable infrastructure and system resilience have supported our operational excellence and sustained growth.

Together, these efforts ensure that your Company's growth is supported by strong governance, robust risk management and resilient infrastructure, enabling us to deliver at scale while maintaining the highest standards of trust and integrity.

Technology

As market activity expanded, we continued to strengthen the technology and operational capabilities supporting the Exchange, with a focus on scalability, resilience, cybersecurity and preparedness for future growth. We also continued to simplify processes for our stakeholders, including through a dedicated UPI facility for member payments and a common platform for compliance submissions across exchanges.

Continued work on product innovation, systems resilience and easing access, supported by strong cybersecurity measures, enabled participants to manage their commodity price risks even amidst heightened global price volatility.

The Road Ahead

India's commodity market is entering a transformative growth phase. Rising industrial and energy demand, a formalizing agricultural value chain, the push for self-reliance in critical minerals, and India's deepening integration with global markets together present an immense opportunity. Your Company intends to help shape this opportunity by expanding our product suite, deepening institutional and retail participation, growing our agricultural franchise, and strengthening global linkages with data, transparency, resilience and unwavering commitment to trust.

Your continued confidence underpins everything we do, and we hold ourselves to the highest standard it implies. Our ambition is to remain the Exchange of Choice and to continue to establish ourselves as a true National Asset, supporting India's financial resilience and serving every participant who seeks hedging, trading and investments against a complex environment. I thank you for your trust, and I look forward, with conviction, to the opportunities ahead.

Warm regards,

The Cybersecurity awareness sessions are also being extended to the market participants for creating awareness to build robust cybersecurity and cyber resilience framework in the commodity market at large.

MCX has observed October 2025 as the Cybersecurity Awareness Month to raise awareness and encourage proactive behavior with an aim to strengthen the MII infrastructure. Various activities have been carried out, including awareness sessions for all employees, tabletop exercises by external expert and participation in regulatory trainings/sessions, among others. MCX has also conducted engaging programs such as poster & slogan making competitions, cyber quizzes, games, rewards and recognition among others, throughout the month, to enhance preparedness among employees against cyber attacks.

What Powers the Infrastructure

For a commodity exchange, intellectual capital is the business itself: the technology platform, surveillance intelligence, proprietary systems, data and accumulated domain knowledge that convert price discovery into a trusted national utility.

Resilient Technology Core

The trading and clearing platform is MCX's primary product. Its ability to scale with surging volumes, sustain ultra-low latency and deliver uninterrupted uptime under peak load is the foundation on which every other capability rests.

- Peak ADT supported (₹29.92 lakhs crore on April 30, 2026)
- Peak transaction messages: 200+ crore in a single day
- Peak trades: 2 crore in a single day
- Partition-based, horizontally scalable trading architecture; partitions increased during the year to raise capacity and cut latency

GLOBAL COMMODITY MARKET

In 2025, global commodity markets saw mixed trend. Precious metals and industrial metals ended the year with strong demand and close to their highest prices of the year, while prices of energy and agricultural commodities were low due to high supply and weak demand. For precious metals, heavy buying by central banks and investors looking for safety pushed gold up 65% to end the year at USD 4,325.6 per troy ounce (ranging from USD 2,617.3 to USD 4,556.3 during the year) on COMEX (CME Group), while silver jumped 142% to close at USD 70.13 per ounce (ranging from USD 28.31 to USD 79.70 in 2025) on the same Exchange. Prices of industrial metals also grew due to lower mining supply and hopes for economic support, with copper rising 42% to USD 12,423 per tonne and aluminium gaining 17% to USD 2,995.5 per tonne, while zinc, lead, and nickel saw smaller gains – all on the London Metal Exchange. In contrast, energy markets cooled as high oil production from non-OPEC countries reduced shortages that had arisen earlier, pulling WTI crude oil down 20% to close at USD 57.42 per barrel on NYMEX (CME Group), while natural gas ended almost flat at USD

3.69 per MMBtu on NYMEX despite volatile price swings caused by weather. Finally, agricultural commodities ended the year with mixed results because of changing weather and low global demand; soybeans prices went up 3% to USD 10.31 per bushel on CBOT (CME Group), but wheat dropped 8% to USD 5.07 per bushel on the same Exchange, and cotton fell 6% to USD 0.64 per pound on ICE USA during the year.

In 2025, volumes traded on global commodity derivatives Exchanges rose by 16.65% year-on-year to 10.52 billion contracts, according to the Futures Industry Association (FIA). Measured by the number of contracts traded, volumes in Precious Metals, Energy and Non-Precious Metals increased by about 45%, 30% and 15% respectively, while those in Agri-commodities dropped by 3.9%, as per FIA data.

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) estimates that the global economy grew moderately by 3.4% in 2025, demonstrating strong resilience despite high trade barriers and geopolitical volatility, surpassing performance levels of 2024. However, the ongoing war in the Middle East has disrupted this momentum in 2026. The closure of the Strait of Hormuz, along with significant damage to critical facilities in a region vital to global hydrocarbon supply, raises the risk of a major energy crisis if hostilities persist. The IMF's World Economic Outlook report of April 2026 projects global growth for 2026 and 2027 at 3.1% and 3.2% respectively, driven by increased investments and fiscal spending.

Meanwhile, India would continue to be a bright spot in the global economy and remain one of the fastest-growing major economies, notes the IMF. For the year 2026 and 2027, the IMF projects India's economic growth at 6.5% each year, by positive contributions from the carryover of the strong 2025 outturn and the decline in additional US tariffs on Indian goods from 50 to 10 percent, which could outweigh the adverse impact of the Middle East conflict.

Your Company's performance during the year 2025-26 and outlook during the year 2026-27 may be analysed against this backdrop.

ENERGY SEGMENT PRODUCTS

The year under review was characterized by heightened volatility across global energy markets, as geopolitical flashpoints, supply-side disruptions, shifting trade flows, and the accelerating pace of the energy transition kept crude oil, natural gas, and power prices on the move through the year. Recurring tensions around the Strait of Hormuz, sustained US-Iran frictions, sanctions-driven realignment of Russian crude flows, and OPEC+ supply decisions added multiple layers of uncertainty to global energy markets. Against this backdrop, value chain participants increasingly sought robust tools to manage price risk, and MCX played a pivotal role in enabling effective risk management by driving strong volume growth across its crude oil and natural gas derivatives basket. MCX also gave India its first domestic reference-based electricity derivatives, with the launch of Electricity Futures on July 10, 2025, marking a significant milestone in deepening the country’s energy risk management ecosystem.

India’s demand for crude oil and natural gas continued to grow steadily during the year, driven by rising energy consumption, expanding industrial and refining activity, and continuous build-out of downstream capacity. As one of the world’s largest energy importers, the Indian economy remains structurally exposed to global price shocks, making the availability of efficient domestic hedging mechanisms critical to industry and the broader economy. This underlying demand growth, together with an increasingly uncertain geopolitical environment, reinforced the case for deeper and more liquid crude oil and natural gas derivatives markets in India. MCX’s rupee denominated energy derivatives further serve as a natural hedge against currency fluctuations, given that a substantial proportion of India’s crude oil and natural gas requirements are met through dollar-denominated imports. By providing an efficient, transparent, and accessible price discovery and risk management platform, MCX continued to support value chain participants in navigating this challenging environment, thereby strengthening India’s energy security and price risk management framework.

Crude Oil and Natural Gas Derivatives

Crude Oil and Natural Gas derivatives remained the cornerstone of MCX’s energy segment, with the Exchange cementing its place among the world’s leading energy derivatives platforms. As per Futures Industry Association (FIA) global rankings for CY 2025 (based on number of contracts traded):

- MCX Crude Oil (100 bbl) Options - ranked #1
- MCX Crude Oil Mini (10 bbl) Options - ranked #3
- MCX Natural Gas (1,250 MMBtu) Options - ranked #2
- MCX Natural Gas Mini (250 MMBtu) Options - ranked #7

These global rankings are a powerful testament to MCX’s deepening liquidity, rising participation, and growing relevance on the world energy derivatives stage. Both crude oil and natural gas contracts delivered robust growth in trading volumes, deeper liquidity, and sustained expansion in open interest, reaffirming MCX’s position as India’s premier platform for energy price risk management.

Performance Highlights

MCX’s Crude Oil and Natural Gas derivatives delivered a strong FY26 performance. Below are the key performance highlights:

- Average Daily Turnover (ADT) of Crude Oil and Natural Gas futures rose by 47% to ₹9,512 crores, up from ₹6,470 crores in FY25.
- Combined notional ADT of Crude Oil and Natural Gas options rose by 28% to ₹2,00,341 crores, up from ₹1,55,891 crores from the previous year.

Electricity Derivatives

FY 2025-26 marked a significant strategic milestone for MCX with the launch of Electricity Futures on July 10, 2025, the Exchange’s first foray into domestic reference-based energy derivatives. This new offering strengthens MCX’s energy derivatives suite and responds directly to the changing contours of India’s power sector, marked by growing market-based procurement, deepening renewable energy integration, and heightened electricity price volatility. Building on its established Crude Oil and Natural Gas products, MCX now offers market participants a comprehensive suite of energy risk management tools spanning oil, gas, and power.

By enabling transparent and efficient price discovery, the contract provides value chain participants (VCPs) across the power ecosystem, with a reliable reference price and an effective tool to hedge against electricity price volatility, thereby supporting more informed procurement, sales, and risk management decisions.

Performance Highlights

Since its launch, MCX Electricity Futures has shown encouraging early traction, with steady gains across trading volumes, open interest, and market participation. Average Daily Volume climbed from 1,313 lots (65,650 MWh) in FY 2025-26 to 1,544 lots (77,200 MWh) in Q1 FY 2026-27, while Average Open Interest rose from 1,052 lots (52,600 MWh) to 1,630 lots (81,500 MWh) over the same period (1 lot = 50 MWh).

The contract has drawn increasingly diverse participation, across value chain, which is a promising sign for the continued deepening of India’s electricity derivatives market. MCX continues its market-building efforts through sustained stakeholder engagement and policy-level discussions with relevant regulatory and industry bodies, aimed at deepening participation and further strengthening the power ecosystem.

The sustained strengthening of MCX’s Crude Oil and Natural Gas derivatives, together with its strategic expansion into electricity derivatives, provides the Exchange with a robust platform for long-term growth and reaffirms its commitment to supporting India’s evolving energy economy.

One additional domestic refined lead producer, namely, Jain Resource Recycling Private Limited was empanelled as MCX approved brands during the FY 2025-26. This takes the total count of approved domestic refined lead producers to 7. To enhance the efficiency of the empanelment process, several modifications were made to the principal document.

In a major step toward fostering greater self-reliance in India's domestic base metal sector the Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited (MCX), the nation's premier commodity derivatives exchange, has issued the 'MCX Good Delivery Norms for Primary Aluminium Refined Copper, and Refined Zinc'. Through a single comprehensive circular no. MCX/PMT/329/2026 issued on June 02, 2026, the Exchange has introduced independent principal documents for each of these base metals, detailing the complete process for empaneling metal producing plants and accepting their deliveries toward contract settlements. This initiative strengthens the ecosystem of MCX-approved brands that meet rigorous quality and process standards.

Management Discussion and Analysis

A LANDMARK YEAR FOR MCX

Financial Year 2025-26 marked a landmark year for MCX, as we strengthened our market leadership through focused execution, product innovation, technology enhancement and deeper market participation. Our strategic initiatives translated into strong financial and operational performance, with higher trading volumes, expanding client participation and sustained momentum across the commodities derivatives segment.

MCX increased its consolidated revenue from operations by 107% to ₹2,302 crores during FY 2025-26, driven by robust growth in trading volumes. We also strengthened our overall financial performance, with consolidated total income reaching ₹2,429 crores, an increase of 101% year-on-year. These results demonstrate the scalability of our business model and the strength of our core franchise. MCX's profitability consequently reached record levels during the year. Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortisation (EBITDA) increased to ₹1,774 crores during FY 2025-26, while the EBITDA margin stood at around 73%. Net profit for the year ended March 31, 2026, stood at ₹1,332 crores, registering a 138% increase over the previous year.

We drove this growth by strengthening market participation and improving product traction across our Futures and Options segments. Average Daily Turnover (ADT) across these segments reached a record ₹5,36,048 crores in FY 2025-26, the highest level achieved by the Exchange. This performance reflects the effectiveness of our continued focus on deepening liquidity, enhancing product offerings and expanding participation across the commodities derivatives ecosystem.

We continued to invest in technology enhancement, product innovation and operational excellence to build a more accessible, resilient and efficient marketplace. These initiatives helped us deepen the maturity and reach of India's commodity derivatives markets while strengthening MCX's position as the country's leading commodity derivatives exchange.

We also made significant progress in expanding our client base. The total number of traded clients increased by 61.26% to 20.90 lakhs during the year. This sharp increase reflects the success of our efforts to broaden market access, strengthen participation and bring a larger number of market participants into the organised commodity derivatives ecosystem.

The strong FY26 performance reinforces MCX's leadership and reflects our ability to convert strategic priorities into measurable outcomes. Going forward, we remain focused on expanding the depth and breadth of the commodity derivatives market, accelerating product innovation, strengthening technology and risk-management capabilities, and creating greater value for all stakeholders.

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) estimates that the global economy grew by 3.4% in 2025, demonstrating strong resilience despite high trade barriers and geopolitical volatility, and surpassing performance levels of 2024. However, the ongoing war in the Middle East has disrupted this momentum. The closure of the Strait of Hormuz, along with significant damage to critical facilities in a region vital to global hydrocarbon supply, raises the risk of a major energy crisis if hostilities persist. The IMF forecasts global economic growth at 3.1% for 2026 and 3.2% for 2027, driven by increased investment in Artificial Intelligence (AI) and fiscal spending. At the same time, the April 2026 Global Financial Stability Report of the IMF highlights elevated financial stability risks amid the war, potential inflationary pressures, and rising concerns about further tightening of financial conditions.

Nonetheless, India would continue to be a bright spot in the global economy and remain one of the fastest-growing major economies, notes the IMF. The Fund estimates India to have grown by 7.5 percent in 2025, following 7.1 percent growth in 2024. For the year 2026 and 2027, the IMF projects India's economic growth at 6.5% in each year, led by positive contributions from the carryover of the strong 2025 outturn and the decline in additional US tariffs on Indian goods from 50 to 10 percent, which outweigh the adverse impact of the Middle East conflict. The IMF estimates India's economy at $4.15 trillion in 2026, world's sixth largest, and poised to be fourth largest by 2027 and third by 2031.

Economic Outlook

The Reserve Bank of India's Monetary Policy Statement released on April 08, 2026 paints a resilient picture of the Indian economy in FY 2025-26. Real gross domestic product (GDP) is estimated to have grown by 7.6 per cent (y-o-y) during the year, as per the Second Advance Estimates (SAE) of the new GDP series (base year FY 2022-23). Private consumption and fixed investment contributed significantly to overall growth, while net external demand remained soft. On the supply side, estimated real GVA growth of 7.7 per cent was driven by buoyant services sector and robust manufacturing activity.

The RBI further indicates that elevated energy and other commodity prices coupled with supply shocks, mainly due to disruptions in the Strait of Hormuz, may act as a drag on domestic production in FY 2026-27. Heightened volatility in global financial markets with its spillover on domestic financial conditions would weigh on growth prospects. On the external front, merchandise exports may be adversely impacted from disruptions to key shipping routes and the concomitant rise in freight and insurance costs in case the conflict is long drawn. On the other hand, sustained momentum in services sector, persisting impact of GST rationalization, rising capacity utilization in manufacturing, and healthy balance sheets of financial institutions and corporates should continue to support domestic demand. In this environment, the Government's focus on scaling up domestic manufacturing in several strategic and frontier sectors announced in the Union Budget FY 2026-27 bodes well for India's ensuing growth trajectory. Taking all these factors into consideration, the RBI projects India's growth rate at 6.9 per cent for FY 2026-27.

Global Commodity Markets

Price Trends

Global commodity markets displayed varied trends across Bullion, Base Metals, Energy, and Agricultural commodity segments in 2025, with price movements reflecting a combination of global macroeconomic conditions, supply-demand dynamics, and geopolitical developments.

In the Bullion segment, Gold futures prices traded at CME recorded a strong upward trend through the year, rising from a low of USD 2,617.3 per troy ounce to a high of USD 4,556.3 per troy ounce, and closing at USD 4,325.6 per troy ounce (+65% YoY), while Silver futures prices moved from USD 28.31 to USD 79.70 per troy ounce, ending at USD 70.13 (+142% YoY). The rally to yearly highs was mainly driven by safe-haven demand, central bank purchases, and expectations of interest rate cuts, whereas early lows were influenced by elevated interest rates and a strong dollar.

In Base Metals, LME Copper 3-month forward prices increased from a low of USD 8,613 per metric tonne to a high of USD 12,558.5 per metric tonne during 2025, closing at USD 12,423 per metric tonne (+42% YoY). LME Aluminium 3 month forward prices rose from USD 1,932.5 to USD 2,995.5 per metric tonne, closing at USD 2,995.5 (+17% YoY). LME Nickel, LME Zinc, and LME Lead 3 month forward contracts recorded moderate gains, supported by supply constraints, improving industrial demand, and expectations of economic stimulus, while lows occurred during periods of weak manufacturing activity and global growth concerns.

In the Energy segment, CME Crude Oil traded between a high of USD 80.77 per barrel and a low of USD 54.98 per barrel, closing at USD 57.42 per barrel (-20% YoY), as initial strength due to geopolitical risks and supply cuts was offset by demand slowdown fears and rising non-OPEC production; CME Natural Gas fluctuated between USD 2.62 and USD 5.50 per MMBtu, ending at USD 3.69 (+1% YoY), though prices were marked by volatility driven by weather conditions and inventory levels.

In Agriculture, CME Soybean prices ranged from USD 9.61 to USD 11.70 per bushel, closing at USD 10.31 (+3% YoY), while CME Wheat moved between USD 4.92 and USD 6.09 per bushel, closing at USD 5.07 (-8% YoY), and ICE Cotton traded between USD 0.61 to USD 0.74 per pound, ending at USD 0.64 (-6% YoY). The highs in this segment were largely influenced by weather-related supply concerns, whereas lows reflected improved production and subdued global demand.

Overall, Bullion and Base Metals showed strong gains and closed near their yearly highs during the year 2025, while energy and agriculture experienced relatively weaker performance due to demand-side pressures and improved supply conditions.

Volume trends

Volumes traded in global commodity derivatives market continued to witness uptrend in 2025. As per data released by the Futures Industry Association (FIA), aggregate volumes traded in commodity derivatives increased by about 16.65% Year-on-Year to touch 10.52 billion contracts in 2025. However, different commodity segments experienced differential growth trends in their volumes traded. OPPORTUNITIES

The emerging landscape in the global and domestic markets provide considerable growth opportunities to your Company, some of which are mentioned below:

Increase in participation

With spread of education and awareness about commodity derivatives, as well as ease of access to the market platform, MCX may see increasing participation on its platform in the times ahead. Further, participation by financial institutions may gain momentum as these institutions and their clients increasingly look forward to gaining exposure to commodity derivatives using the services of Mutual Funds, Portfolio Managers, Alternative Investment Funds and Specialized Investment Funds. While Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) may increase traction in the commodity space in the years ahead, the range of permissible products (currently limited to cash-settled contracts only) may be expanded for Foreign Institutional Investors (FPIs), further deepening the commodity derivatives contracts.

Growth in Retail Participation through Technology Platforms

The rapid growth of digital platforms and innovations in digital investing offers MCX an opportunity to significantly increase retail participation. The Exchange can collaborate with fintech platforms, brokerages, and digital investment apps to simplify access to commodity trading products. User-friendly mobile interfaces, educational tools, multilingual research content, and small-sized contracts can greatly help expand commodity market participation among retail investors and first-time traders across India.

Introduction of new products

In response to market demand and after receiving regulatory approvals, your Company launched several new products during the year FY 2025-26 such as Futures contracts on Electricity, Gold Ten and Cardamom. The Exchange also revamped and re-launched existing products such as Futures on Cotton and Nickel. The new product launches highlight MCX's commitment to innovation, providing market accessibility and meeting the evolving needs of stakeholders across various commodity segments. Regulatory approvals have been obtained for other new products, and the Exchange plans to launch them at appropriate times. Apart from derivatives on new commodities, your Company continues to explore different variants of Futures and Options contracts for existing commodities, with variations in terms of tenure and lot size, and would launch these contracts at appropriate times based on market feedback and regulatory approvals.

Apart from launching derivatives contracts on commodities, your Company shall also explore the possibility of venturing into newer opportunities, such as spot exchange platforms for different commodities; new platforms, products and services within the securities market; monetization of existing and commencement of new services; etc.

Expansion in agricultural Commodities

India's large agricultural economy presents substantial untapped potential for commodity derivatives. MCX can strengthen its presence in the agri-commodities domain through the introduction of new contracts, farmer outreach initiatives, warehousing integration, and digital delivery mechanisms. Collaborations with Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs), agri-tech companies, and government agencies can improve hedging awareness and participation among farmers, processors, exporters and other value chain participants. This would support efficient price discovery and risk management across the agricultural value chain.

Strengthening international collaborations and partnerships

Your Company already has MoUs for collaborations with several international exchanges. These collaborations can be further built upon to develop knowledge or facilitate product developments. The Exchange can also explore the possibility of introducing products linked to international benchmarks and offer own products on international platforms, subject to regulatory approvals, thereby enhancing participation from foreign investors on their own platforms.

POTENTIAL THREATS

Some threats perceived in your Company's operations and on its path towards expansion, are discussed below.

Competition from Domestic and Global Exchanges

Competition in the Indian financial market ecosystem has been increasing over time, with domestic stock exchanges, international exchanges, and alternative trading platforms continuously expanding their product offerings and technology capabilities. Competitors with diversified product portfolios and stronger presence in equities or global commodities may attract market participants through aggressive pricing or innovative contracts. Increased competition could impact MCX's market share, trading volumes, and pricing power over the long term.

Regulatory and Policy Uncertainties

Commodity derivatives markets are highly regulated and remain sensitive to changes in government policies, taxation frameworks, and regulatory guidelines. Any restriction on commodity trading, higher transaction costs, or policy interventions in free markets and movements in commodities could adversely affect market sentiment and trading activity. Frequent regulatory changes may also increase compliance costs and operational complexities for the Exchange and its participants.

Dependence on Commodity Market Volumes

The major portion of MCX's revenues is linked to trading activity in commodity derivatives. Commodity markets are inherently cyclical and influenced by global economic conditions, geopolitical developments, inflation trends, currency volatility, and government interventions. Prolonged periods of low volatility or weak participation in key commodities may adversely impact trading volumes, liquidity, and revenue generation for the Exchange.

Cybersecurity and Technology-Related Threats

As a technology-driven market infrastructure institution, MCX faces growing risks related to cybersecurity threats, system disruptions, data breaches, and operational failures. Increasing digitalization and algorithmic trading activity heighten the need for resilient and secure trading systems. Any major technology outage, cyberattack, or compromise of sensitive market data could disrupt operations, damage market confidence, and expose the Exchange to reputational and financial risks.

Emergence of Alternative Investment Platforms and Asset Classes

The rapid growth of alternative investment products such as cryptocurrencies, digital assets, and global investment products may divert investor interest away from traditional domestic commodity derivatives markets. Younger investors and retail participants may increasingly prefer newer asset classes offering perceived higher returns or easier accessibility, potentially affecting long-term growth in commodity participation.

Threat from Liquidity Concentration

A substantial share of trading volumes on the Exchange may remain concentrated in a limited number of commodity contracts. Overdependence on a few highly traded contracts exposes MCX to concentration risks, where reduced activity in these segments could disproportionately affect overall turnover and revenues. Failure to develop liquidity across a broader product base may limit sustainable long-term growth.

Management Discussion and Analysis (Contd.)

Global Economic and Geopolitical Volatility

Commodity markets are significantly influenced by global macroeconomic trends, geopolitical tensions, trade restrictions, sanctions, and supply chain disruptions. Events such as economic slowdowns, wars, changes in global monetary policies, or disruptions in commodity-producing regions can create extreme volatility and uncertainty in commodity markets. Such developments may impact participant confidence, hedging demand, and overall market stability.

Threats from Clearing and Counterparty Exposure

Although robust risk management mechanisms are in place, extreme market movements or participant defaults could expose the Exchange and its clearing ecosystem to financial and operational risks. In periods of heightened volatility, increased margin requirements and liquidity pressures may impact market participation and settlement efficiency. Effective management of clearing and settlement risks remains critical to maintaining market integrity and investor confidence.

Declining Participation in Agricultural Commodities

Agricultural commodity markets in India continue to face structural challenges including fragmented supply chains, regulatory restrictions, lower awareness among farmers and other stakeholders to derivatives trading, and periodic government interventions. Limited participation from physical market stakeholders in agricultural commodity contracts could restrict growth opportunities in this segment and reduce diversification benefits for the Exchange.

Talent Acquisition and Retention Challenges

The increasing demand for skilled professionals in financial technology, cybersecurity, quantitative analytics, and digital innovation may intensify competition for talent across the financial services industry. Failure to attract, develop, and retain specialized talent could impact MCX's ability to innovate and execute strategic initiatives, and maintain its leadership position in a rapidly evolving market environment.

Market Perception and Reputational Risks

As a critical financial market infrastructure institution, MCX's reputation is closely linked to market integrity, transparency, and operational reliability. Any adverse events such as technology failures, regulatory actions, market manipulation incidents, or governance concerns could negatively affect stakeholder trust and brand value. Maintaining strong governance standards and investor confidence remains essential for sustainable growth.

Cyber Security Management

Cyber security is increasingly becoming critical with emerging threats which seek to exploit vulnerability in the systems. For MCX, being a MII, providing an online trading platform, cybersecurity is of paramount importance to ensure trust among the Market Participants, Regulators and Stakeholders.

In view of such threats, MCX has adopted a defense-in-depth strategy to ensure information security at all layers with well-defined Cyber Security and Cyber Resilience Policy and comprehensive Information Security policy. MCX has established best in class Cyber Security Operations Center (C-SOC) which operates 24x7x365 for continuous monitoring, detection, quick response and recovery in case of any type of cyber-attacks. Information Security team has implemented people, process and technology security controls in the form of best-in-class tools and technologies, processes aligned with global standards like ISO 27001:2022, NIST etc., and regular awareness initiatives to strengthen the human firewall for protection against cyber-attacks. The Cyber Security awareness sessions are also being extended to the market participants for creating awareness to build robust cyber security and cyber resilience framework in the commodity market at large.

Constant enhancement and continuous improvement in the Cyber Security Framework and Information Security Management System has been your Company's top priority. Your Company is ISO 27001:2022 certified and organization's Information Security Policy is formulated on the same standard.

To manage cyber security risks associated with processes, information, networks, systems and applications, the Cyber Security and Cyber Resilience Policy of your Company includes the following:

- 'Identify' critical IT assets and risks associated with such assets;
- 'Protect' assets by deploying suitable controls, tools and measures;
- 'Detect' incidents, anomalies and attacks through appropriate monitoring tools/processes;
- 'Respond' by taking immediate steps after identification of the incident, anomaly or attack;
- 'Recover' from incident through incident management, disaster recovery and business continuity framework.

Management Discussion and Analysis (Contd.)

Your Company has strengthened the Business Continuity Plan (BCP) and Disaster Recovery (DR) Policy and framework considering the latest SEBI Guidelines for BCP-DR of MIIs, with an objective to put in place measures to restore operations of critical systems within stipulated Recovery Time Objective (RTO), streamlining communication protocols, identifying broad scenarios of disaster, escalation hierarchy among others.

RISKS AND CONCERNS

Your Company's business and financial performance depend on various internal and external factors, some of which may give rise to risks and concerns.

(a) Market Risks

Geopolitical and Trade Risks

Ongoing geopolitical conflicts in West Asia and elsewhere and increasing trade protectionist measures led by the United States, continue to pose risks to global commodity markets. Escalating tariffs, sanctions, supply chain disruptions and uncertainty in international trade may lead to heightened volatility across energy, bullion, metals and agricultural commodities. Such developments could impact trading patterns, investor sentiments and overall market stability, thereby influencing business operations and market participation for your Company, being a leading commodity exchange.

Currency Fluctuation Risk

Volatility in global currency markets, particularly movements in the Indian Rupee against major international currencies such as the US Dollar, may impact commodity prices, import-export dynamics and overall market sentiment. Sharp currency fluctuations driven by geopolitical developments, monetary policy changes and global economic uncertainty could influence trading volumes and hedging activity across commodity derivatives markets. As a leading derivatives exchange, your Company remains exposed to risks arising from adverse foreign exchange movements and their impact on market participation and investor confidence.

Global Economic Risk

Global economic slowdown, persistent inflationary pressures, changing interest rate environments and evolving monetary policies across major economies may continue to impact commodity demand and financial market stability. Uncertainty in global growth prospects, coupled with disruptions in international trade and investment flows, could adversely affect commodity prices, market liquidity and investor participation. As a leading commodity exchange, your Company remains exposed to risks arising from changing global macroeconomic conditions and their potential impact on trading activity and overall market sentiment.

(b) Business Risks

Risk of Liquidity Fragmentation from Identical Products

Your Company operates in an industry characterized by competitive pressures, with domestic Exchanges offering near-identical products in the commodity derivatives segment. This phenomenon can disperse trading liquidity, which can increase transaction costs and reduce overall market efficiency. Furthermore, direct competition may lead to aggressive pricing pressures, potentially eroding the Company's profit margins and limiting revenue growth.

Risk of Global Benchmark Disruptions

Indian physical market participants (particularly in the metals and energy sectors) often rely on global trading hubs for reference prices. Any disruption at these prominent international platforms can severely impact the price discovery process of such commodities for domestic stakeholders. When price signals become uncertain, domestic market participants often hesitate to execute trades. Such declines in participation and volume directly can impact the Exchange's transaction-based revenue streams.

Escalating Costs of Technological and Physical Infrastructure

Operating as a Market Infrastructure Institution (MII) demands infusion of substantial, continuous capital. To accommodate rising trading volumes and meet stringent market demands, your Company must consistently invest in expensive, mission-critical infrastructure. The necessity to upgrade trading platforms, enhancing data centres to achieve faster execution speeds and maintain robust cybersecurity defences. These technological upgrades are necessary not only to enhance operational efficiency but also to ensure compliance with regulatory standards and uphold market integrity. These expenditures could increase with increasing demands from stakeholders, expansion of business and challenging cyber threats.

Staff Attrition

In the fast-paced and dynamic industry landscape, many organizations, including your Company, may face the issue of high employee turnover. This challenge brings with it both apparent and indirect costs. The process of recruiting and training new employees incurs substantial time and monetary investments, and the departure of seasoned employees results in the loss of valuable skills and institutional knowledge. These factors directly impact organizational productivity, potentially leading to diminished revenue and missed prospects.

Management Discussion and Analysis (Contd.)

(c) Financial Risks

Imposition or enhancement of statutory costs

Any new tax, increase in a tax, coverage of a tax on new activities or a new statutory levy may dampen volumes, thereby impacting your Company's profitability. An unexpected tax demand or levy of a fee/ fine may also, likewise, affect your Company's profitability.

Monetary policy changes

During the financial year 2025–26, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) adapted its monetary policy stance to support economic growth amid easing inflation. The central bank lowered the repo rate to 5.25% by December 2025. This decision was influenced by a notable moderation in consumer price inflation. The RBI has now adopted a “wait and watch” neutral stance to navigate volatile global economic conditions while securing stability. Meanwhile, the war in West Asia, together with anticipation of El Nino conditions having implications for the monsoon, can jeopardise inflation management in the near to medium term – putting pressure on the central bank to raise rates. Changes in monetary policy could directly impact your Company's treasury income through impact on yields on fixed-income investments.

(d) Regulatory Risks

Suspension/ Ban on Trading in Derivative Contracts

Futures contracts on agricultural commodities traded on MCX have been subject to suspensions from time to time, the last being the suspension on Crude Palm Oil (CPO) Futures. Suspended first on December 20, 2021, the contract has been kept on suspension multiple times, the last being till March 31, 2027. Before its suspension, MCX CPO Futures had clocked an average daily turnover of around ₹380 crores during April-November 2021, hence its suspension resulted in a loss in trade volumes and income for the Exchange. Your Company faces risks of such abrupt suspensions/ bans on commodity derivative contracts in the future too. Such suspensions can have direct and indirect consequences. Directly, they result in an unexpected and unplanned loss of transaction revenue for the Company. Indirectly, they can undermine the confidence of market participants in the continuity of other derivative contracts as well.

To make the Exchange's bullion derivative contracts more relevant to the physical market players and in line with the broader national objective of 'Atmanirbhar Bharat', your Company established Good Delivery norms for BIS standard gold in March 2021, and embarked upon the path of recognizing domestic bullion refiners for good delivery of gold bars against Gold Mini (100 grams) Futures contracts. The initiative aims to ensure high standards of quality, purity, refining practices within India and delivery assurance for gold traded on the Exchange, thereby enhancing market confidence and supporting efficient physical settlement. Delivery of 7,783 kgs of Indian refined gold valued at ₹10,171 crores was successfully seen under this route during the year FY 2025-26, out of cumulative total delivery of 18,578 kg valued at ₹16,546 crores achieved under India Good Delivery, till March 31, 2026.

The success of India Good Delivery norms in gold has encouraged the Exchange to create such norms for silver also. Accordingly, standards have been drawn and suppliers who meet these norms have been invited to be empanelled for MCX Good Delivery of silver.

The creation of standards and empanelment of domestic refiners reinforces MCX's commitment towards establishing globally aligned bullion standards and promoting transparency, trust and efficiency in India's precious metals market.

MCX also added three UAE Good Delivery (UAE GD) standard refiners-Al Etihad Gold, Emirates Gold, and Sam Precious Metals-to its empanelled list for Gold Mini futures contracts, streamlining cross-border bullion integration and bolstering trade ties. Launched to reinforce integrity, transparency, and responsible sourcing of precious metals, the UAE GD Standard acts as a global quality passport, verifying that gold bars strictly meet international benchmarks for purity and weight. This landmark recognition by MCX allows 100-gram gold bars produced by these accredited UAE facilities to be seamlessly accepted for physical delivery and settlement on MCX.

The initiative of empanelling local gold refiners was extended to local Lead suppliers from March 2022. Lead from the empanelled brands, deliverable in ingot form, enhance market confidence by ensuring quality assurance, wider participation, and efficient physical settlement mechanisms in the Lead futures segment on the Exchange. An independent study undertaken by IIT Kharagpur concluded that empanelment of domestic Lead brands is leading to efficient price discovery of the metal, reflecting the domestic market conditions.

Base Metal derivatives contracts have been experiencing significant deliveries since the transition of their settlement to compulsory delivery from the year 2019, underscoring the utility of delivery-based contracts in the market landscape and the efficiency of MCXCCL's delivery mechanism. Base Metals together witnessed cumulative delivery of 5.6 lakhs tons till March 2026, while delivery during the year FY 2025-26 was 95,782 tons.

Expanding agricultural derivatives with better warehousing integration and regional benchmark contracts can further deepen market participation. industry hedging needs. INITIATIVES

Your Company remains committed to strengthening its processes and creating products to uphold the trust bestowed by its stakeholders. During the year FY 2025-26, your Company undertook several initiatives to remain at the forefront of product and process innovations and facilitate the development of India's commodity derivatives market.

Launch of new products

In response to market demand, your Company launched new products to provide trading and hedging opportunities. In a landmark development for India's energy sector, MCX became the first exchange to launch electricity futures in India, with trading of MCX Electricity monthly base load Futures contracts commencing on July 10, 2025. Approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) in June 2025, the launch of this cash-settled contract marked a critical shift in the Indian power market, offering a secure, transparent platform for generators, distribution companies (DISCOMs), and large industrial consumers to hedge against volatility in electricity prices. The contracts are designed to provide a reliable price discovery mechanism, particularly necessary for navigating seasonal demand fluctuations and erratic weather patterns that affect power supply and hence electricity prices. By facilitating this new derivative instrument, MCX aims to modernize India's energy landscape, reducing the risks associated with price fluctuations in the short-term spot market and fostering greater financial stability in power procurement.

Further, to deepen the Electricity futures market, MCX introduced a Liquidity Enhancement Scheme (LES) for the contract, initially for six months, which has now been extended till July 09, 2026.

Earlier, MCX launched Gold Ten (10-gram) futures contract, with trading commencing on April 01, 2025, aimed at improving market accessibility for retail investors and smaller participants. This contract provides a cost-effective, smaller-unit alternative to the existing 1 kg Gold and 100-gram Gold Mini contracts, facilitating easier inventory hedging for jewellers and smaller traders. With a compulsory delivery mechanism, the contract ensures physical settlement at MCX-accredited vaults, featuring a 999 purity standard for the underlying 10 grams of gold.

On June 01, 2026, MCX launched the Silver 100 futures contracts, with a lot size of 100 gram silver. The new Silver contract offer an accessible entry point to hedgers and investors, complementing existing contracts with larger denominations like Silver (30 kg), Silver Mini (5 kg) and Silver Micro (1 kg) contracts.

During the year FY 2025-26, MCX also initiated changes to its existing commodity portfolio by launching a modified Nickel futures contract and updating the structure of the Cotton futures contract to better align with physical market dynamics. Effective August 18, 2025, MCX Nickel contract was re-introduced with a re-designed trading unit reduced to 250 kg (down from 1,500 kg) and 1.5-tonne delivery lot. This revised contract is also characterised by a change in its expiry to the third Wednesday of the month and Thane as the sole delivery centre. Concurrently, addressing the needs of textile mills and ginners to streamline trading, the Exchange shifted its Cotton futures contract specifications from a candy-based system to a bales-based one. Under the revised structure, the trading unit has been adjusted to 25 bales (from 48-candy contracts) to offer better hedging mechanisms, with delivery units fixed at 100 bales. These strategic modifications reflect a move to align with market practices and improve participation of industrial users and Value Chain Participants.

Changes to the options strike price intervals

In a move to manage heightened market volatility and align with surging underlying prices, your Exchange implemented changes to the Options strike price intervals for various products during the year. Effective January 29, 2026, MCX widened the strike price intervals for Silver (30 kg) and Silver Mini (5 kg) options on futures to ₹1,000 from the previous ₹250. This adjustment, affecting both existing and newly launched contracts, was prompted by silver surpassing the ₹4 lakhs per kilogram mark, rendering the narrower, earlier intervals impractical for effective trading. Shortly after, on January 30, 2026, similar revisions were applied to Gold and Gold Mini options with their strike intervals increased from ₹100 to ₹500. Furthermore, the Exchange also modified the contract specifications-including strike price intervals-for Copper and Zinc options in late April 2026, increasing the strike interval from ₹5 to ₹10 for copper and from ₹2.5 to ₹5 for Zinc. These revisions during the year, including structural adjustments in options contracts, were aimed at aligning the contracts to changed conditions in physical markets and the contracts more meaningful for price discovery and risk management during volatile market conditions.

Democratising access to institutional-grade gold

MCX re-affirmed its commitment to market inclusion of retail participants by facilitating easy and door-step delivery of bullion through the Exchange-delivery mechanism. Launched in partnership with an MCX Member, the initiative enables retail investors to purchase physical gold and silver at live, transparent MCX exchange prices, eliminating the markups and hidden spreads often found in traditional digital and physical gold products. By facilitating the delivery of this product through MCX Clearing Corporation Ltd (MCXCCL), every purchase is rooted in direct, secure physical settlement of the clearing house — ensuring trust and transparency. Investors can choose to securely store their assets in MCX-partnered, exchange-regulated vaults or request doorstep delivery. This initiative, launched on April 29, 2026, democratizes access to institutional-grade bullion trading, bringing the safety standards thought to be the domain of large players alone, to the fingertips of the common investor.

Management Discussion and Analysis (Contd.)

uncertainties that can lead to sudden shifts in commodity availability and pricing, as well as increasingly intense impacts of climate change which can disrupt production and supply chains in commodities. Additionally, uneven economic growth across different regions and varying fiscal and monetary policies implemented by central banks worldwide adds layers of complexity to the market landscape and, thereby, volatility in commodity prices. In such a volatile environment, effective risk management, diversification of sourcing and markets, and agile business strategies have become more crucial than ever. Market participants are increasingly turning to derivative instruments for hedging price risks and navigating the uncertainties of the economy. This growing culture of proactive risk management is encouraging organizations of all sizes to seek solutions from hedging platforms such as MCX for effective risk mitigation. Your Company is well-positioned to capitalize on this emerging demand.

Economic Growth

According to these estimates, the real GDP growth rate is estimated at 7.6% in 2025-26, higher than the global growth. Further, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), in its Annual Report released in May 2026, projected that India's GDP is expected to grow at 6.9% for the year 2026-27. Strong domestic fundamentals, robust rural demand, improved urban consumption, and such related factors are expected to support expansion of the domestic economy. Your Company's commitment to resilience and proactively picking on the emerging opportunities can enable it to capitalize on these trends and drive its overall performance.

Establishing Indian Benchmarks for Commodities

By enhancing participation across a wide cross section of market stakeholders, including value chain participants, the Exchange is contributing towards the development of credible India-centric benchmark prices across key commodities such as gold, silver and base metals.

India's significant share in global consumption of bullion and industrial metals provides strong potential for domestic derivatives prices to increasingly influence regional and global trade references. With contract designs that imbibe all relevant factors in prices such as costs, duty etc, as well as growing liquidity, transparent trading, and deeper market participation, derivatives contracts traded on MCX can progressively reflect real-time Indian demand-supply dynamics, import costs, logistics, currency fluctuations and industrial consumption trends. The exchange's continued efforts towards product innovation, strengthening delivery-based ecosystems, empanelment of internationally recognised refiners/ suppliers and warehouses, alignment with global quality standards and stronger integration with physical markets are expected to further enhance the credibility and acceptance of MCX prices as the truly accepted benchmark prices. Over time, sustained liquidity, and wider adoption of MCX prices for imports, exports and hedging activities would position India as an influential contributor to global commodity price discovery and support the evolution of MCX derivatives into globally referenced benchmark contracts.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing, as specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the audit of the standalone financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report. We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the standalone financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying standalone financial statements.

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matter	Auditor's Response
1.	Contingent Liabilities: Refer Note 31 of standalone financial statements. There are legal and tax cases against the Company and demand is raised against the Company and the same has been disputed by the company at various statutory forums. There are also matters pending before regulatory authorities	Principal Audit Procedures: For legal, tax and other regulatory matters our procedures included the following: - Obtaining list of legal and tax cases and other matters against the Company and gained understanding thereof. - Assessment of assumptions used in the evaluation of potential legal risks performed by the legal of the Company considering the legal precedence and other rulings in similar cases. - Inquiry with the legal department personnel regarding the status of the most significant disputes and perusal of the key relevant documentation. - Considering external legal experts /tax consultants opinions obtained by the management on possible outcome of litigation;

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matter	Auditor's Response
	For pending litigations against the Company, high level of management judgement is required to determine whether an obligation exists and a provision is required or disclosures, if any. The measurement of the provision is based on the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation. Considering the judgement and estimate involved, matter is considered as a key audit matter.	• Meeting with the management and reading subsequent Companies correspondence; • Discussing open matters with the Companies legal litigation and tax teams; • Assessing the Management's conclusions through understanding precedents set in similar cases; and • For the significant provisions made, understood and assessed the provisioning methodology. Tested the underlying data and assumptions used in the determination of the provisions recorded. • For cases where a provision was not recognized, evaluated the adequacy of disclosure made in the Ind AS financial statements.
2.	Valuation of Investments and its impairment: Quoted investments and unquoted investments represent the most significant amount on the balance sheet. The total of these investments aggregating to ₹2,985.49 crores represented 80.04 % of total assets of the Company as at March 31, 2026. There is inherent uncertainty relating to the assumptions supporting such estimates and risk that the fair value of investments is not determined appropriately and hence valuation of investments and its impairment is considered as a key audit matter.	Principal Audit Procedures: • We assessed the design and implementation of controls over valuation and existence of investments. • For the fair valuation models, we understood and assessed the methodology used. We tested the underlying data and assumptions used in the determination of the fair value. • We traced the quantity held from the independent confirmation provided by the Custodian and Fund houses. • We tested the valuation of the quoted and unquoted investments to independent pricing sources. • Assessed appropriateness and arithmetical accuracy of fair value disclosures pertaining to investments.

INFORMATION OTHER THAN THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND AUDITOR'S REPORT THEREON

The Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF MANAGEMENT AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, statement of changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the standalone financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under clause (i) of sub-section 3 of section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

The Annexure referred to in paragraph 2(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of MULTI COMMODITY EXCHANGE OF INDIA LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2026 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS

The Company's Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (The "Guidance Note"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act").

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting with reference to standalone financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to standalone financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting with reference to standalone financial statements.

MEANING OF INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of standalone financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting with reference to these standalone financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of standalone financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the standalone financial statements.

INHERENT LIMITATIONS OF INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to these standalone financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper Management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, to the best our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

1. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES, KEY ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

1.1 Basis of preparation of financial statements

These standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (hereinafter referred to as the ‘Ind AS’) as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (‘Act’) read with of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended) and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013, (Ind AS Compliant Schedule III), as applicable to standalone financial statements.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

These financial statements have been prepared and presented under the historical cost convention, on the accrual basis of accounting except for certain financial assets, financial liabilities, and defined benefits that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period as required by relevant Ind AS, as stated in the accounting policies set out below. The accounting policies have been applied consistently over all the periods presented in these standalone financial statements.

1.2 Material accounting policies

A. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at original cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Costs directly attributable to acquisition are capitalized until the property, plant and equipment are ready for use, as intended by the management.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful life, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is de-recognized when replaced.

Subsequent expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment is capitalized only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Freehold land is carried at historical cost of acquisition. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value:

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives, from the date that they are available for intended use as follows:

Asset class	Useful lives
Buildings	60 years
Office equipment	5 years
Servers & network equipment	3-6 years
Furniture and fittings	10 years
Vehicles	5 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year end, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Repairs and maintenance costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when incurred.

Derecognition of property, plant and equipment

A property, plant and equipment are derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements upon sale or disposition of the asset and the resultant gains or losses measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

B. Intangible assets

Intangible assets are recognized only if it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the assets will flow to the Company and the cost of the assets can be measured reliably. Directly attributable costs that are capitalized as part of the software include employee costs and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads. Expenditure on an intangible item is expensed when incurred unless it forms part of the cost of intangible asset that meets the recognition criteria. Intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition and are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any. Intangible assets are amortized over their respective individual estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis, from the date that they are available for intended use. Amortization methods and useful lives are reviewed at each financial year end, with the effect of any changes in estimate, accounted for on a prospective basis.

At each balance sheet date consideration is given to determine whether there is any indication of impairment of the carrying amounts of the Company's intangible assets. If indication exists, an asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognized in the statement of profit and loss account whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount.

The estimated useful lives of intangible assets are as follows:

Asset class	Useful life
Computer software & licence fees	5-10 years
Trademark and copyright	6-8 years

Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. The cost and related accumulated amortization are eliminated from the financial statements and the resultant gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, and are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

Purchase of any property, plant and equipment including intangible assets below ₹1,00,000/- is capitalized and fully depreciated in the same financial year.

C. Capital work-in-progress ('CWIP') and intangible assets under development

Capital work-in-progress/intangible assets under development are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses, and less impairment losses if any. Advances given to acquire property, plant and equipment are recorded as non-current assets and subsequently transferred to CWIP on acquisition of related assets.

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress and intangible assets under development until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

D. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired, if such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset. Impairment losses are reversed in the Statement of Profit and Loss only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined if no impairment loss had previously been recognized.

E. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and short-term deposits in the Balance Sheet comprises cash at banks, cheques on hand, short-term deposits with a maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These do not include bank balances earmarked/restricted for specific purposes.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above as they are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

F. Trade receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for services performed in the ordinary course of business and reflects Company's unconditional right to consideration (that is, payment is due only on the passage of time). Trade receivables are recognized initially at the transaction price as they do not contain significant financing components. The Company holds the trade receivables with the objective of collecting the contractual cash flows and therefore measures them subsequently at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less loss allowance for credit impairment.

G. Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial period which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognized initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

H. Cash flow statement

Cash flow statement are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit/(loss) before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

I. Settlement guarantee funds

The Company contributes to Settlement Guarantee Fund in accordance with Securities Exchange Board of India ('SEBI') (Stock Exchanges and Clearing Corporations) Regulation 2018. The Company contributes 25% of its annual profits as per Regulation 33 of SECC 2012, and also contributes amounts pertaining to Minimum Required Contribution (MRC) to the Settlement Guarantee Fund maintained by MCX Clearing Corporation Limited (subsidiary of the Company), which is determined as per SEBI guidelines. The contribution to Settlement Guarantee Fund is recorded as an expense. Effective August 29, 2016, SEBI has amended Regulation 33 of SECC Regulations, 2012, and the Company is now required to contribute only towards the MRC of Settlement Guarantee Fund.

J. Fair value measurement

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with accounting policies at each reporting date. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- in the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.
- Level 3: Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the Balance Sheet on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

K. Financial instruments

Financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

a. Financial assets:

The Company measures its financial assets at fair value at each Balance Sheet date. In this context, quoted investments are fair valued adopting the techniques defined in level 1 of fair value hierarchy of Ind-AS 113 Fair Value Measurement" and unquoted investments, where the observable input is not readily available, are fair valued adopting the techniques defined in level 3 of fair value hierarchy of Ind-AS 113 and securing the valuation report from the certified valuer. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

The Company classifies a financial asset in accordance with the below criteria:

- i. The Company's business model for managing the financial asset and
- ii. The contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset.

Based on the above criteria, the Company classifies its financial assets into the following categories:

- i. Financial assets measured at amortized cost
- ii. Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- iii. Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

A financial asset is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- The Company's business model objective for managing the financial asset is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Amortized cost are represented by investment in interest bearing debt instruments, trade receivables, security deposits, cash and cash equivalents, employee and other advances and eligible current and non-current assets.

A financial asset is measured at FVTOCI if both of the following conditions are met:

- The Company's business model objective for managing the financial asset is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

However, the Company recognizes dividend income from such instruments in the Statement of Profit and Loss and fair value changes are recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI).

A financial asset is measured at FVTPL unless it is measured at amortized cost or at FVTOCI as explained above. This is a residual category applied to all other investments of the Company. Such financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value at each reporting date. Fair value changes are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets are measured initially at fair value plus transaction costs and subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method, less impairment loss, if any.

Target maturity funds

The Company intends to hold its investment in open ended target maturity funds till maturity. It may be noted that these funds have a pre-determined maturity date. These funds follow a passive buy and hold strategy; in which the existing underlying investment bonds are expected to be held till maturity unless sold for meeting redemptions or rebalancing requirements as stated in the scheme document. In our view, such strategy mitigates intermittent price volatility in open ended target maturity funds' underlying investments; and investors who remain invested until maturity are expected to mitigate the market/volatility risk to a large extent. These funds can invest only in plain vanilla INR bonds with fixed coupon and maturity; and cannot invest in floating rate bonds. Based on this, the Company believes that the investments in open ended target maturity funds meet the requirements of SPPI test as per the requirements of Ind AS 109.

Earmarked funds

Earmarked funds represent deposits, margins, etc. held for specific purposes. These amounts are invested and the same are earmarked in the Balance Sheet. Investment income earned on financial instrument is credited to respective earmarked liabilities and not credited to the Statement of Profit and Loss. The gain/ (loss) on Fair Value of the investments from these earmarked funds are shown as liabilities/asset and are not routed through the Statement of Profit and Loss.

De-recognition

Financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognized (i.e. removed from the Company's Balance Sheet) when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement and either;
 - The Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or
 - The Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

On de-recognition of a financial asset, (except for financial assets measured at FVTOCI) the difference between the carrying amount and the consideration received is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company assesses impairment based on expected credit losses (ECL) model to the following:

- Financial assets measured at amortized cost.
- Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI).
- Financial assets measure at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL).

Expected credit losses are measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- The 12 months expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date); or
- Full lifetime expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument).

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-months ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the Company reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-months ECL.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the year is recognized as income/ expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the Company combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

b. Financial liabilities:

The Company recognizes a financial liability in its Balance Sheet when it becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

All non-current financial liabilities of the Company are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Under the effective interest rate method, the future cash payments are exactly discounted to the initial recognition value using the effective interest rate. The cumulative amortization using the effective interest rate method of the difference between the initial recognition amount and the maturity amount is added to the initial recognition value (net of principal repayments, if any) of the financial liability over the relevant period of the financial liability to arrive at the amortized cost at each reporting date. The corresponding effect of the amortization under effective interest rate method is recognized as an interest expense over the relevant period of the financial liability. The same is included under finance cost in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

De-recognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or the counterparty.

L. Equity investments (in subsidiary and associates)

Investments in subsidiary and associates are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Where an indication of impairment exists, the carrying amount of the investment is assessed and written down immediately to its recoverable amount. On disposal of investments in subsidiaries and associates, the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amounts are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Equity instruments at FVTOCI and FVTPL

All equity instruments are measured at fair value other than investment in subsidiary and associates. Equity instruments held for trading are classified as FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value in OCI. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividend are recognized in OCI which is not subsequently recycled to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

M. Revenue recognition

The Company has applied Ind AS 115 Revenue from Contracts with Customers which establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is to be recognized.

The Company derives revenue primarily from commodity services mainly in the form of transaction charges, data feed income and connectivity charges. The Company recognizes revenue when the significant terms of the arrangement are enforceable, services have been delivered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The method for recognizing revenues depends on the nature of services rendered. Revenue is recognized on accrual basis and when no significant uncertainty as to measurement and realization exists.

The Company considers the terms of the contract in determining the transaction price. The transaction price is based upon the amount the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for transferring of promised services to the customer after deducting allowances and incentives such as discounts, volume rebates etc. Revenue excludes any taxes and duties collected on behalf of the government.

- Transaction charges: Transaction fee is charged based on the volume of transactions entered into by the respective member or client of the member through the Exchange. Revenue is recognized on transactions in accordance with the Company's fees scales as and when the transaction occurs.

- Data feed income and connectivity charges: revenue is recognized over the period of the contract with the customer. The revenue is calculated based on the specified charges for data feed provided and is recognized in the period in which the performance obligation is satisfied.
- Interest income: Interest income is recognized, when no significant uncertainty as to measurability or collectability exists, on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate. The amounts disclosed as revenue are net of taxes and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.
- Profit on sale of investments: Profit on sale of investments is determined as the difference between the sales price and carrying value of investments at the time of disposal of these investments.
- Other: all other revenue is recognized in the period in which the performance obligation is satisfied over a period of time or point in time.

In respect of members who have been declared as defaulters by the Company, all amounts (dues) remaining to be recovered from such defaulters, net of available security and insurance cover available if any, till the date of being declared as defaulters are written off as bad debts. All subsequent recoveries are accounted when received.

N. Foreign currency translation

The financial statements are presented in Indian rupee (₹), which is Company's functional and presentation currency. Transactions in foreign currencies are recognized at the prevailing exchange rates on the transaction dates. Realized gains and losses on settlement of foreign currency transactions are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rates and the resultant exchange differences are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

O. Current and non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle (twelve months) and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Act.

Operating Cycle:

Based on the nature of products/activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realization in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

P. Employee benefits expenses

a. Post-employment benefits and other long term benefits

Defined contribution plans

The Company pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered Provident Funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. Payments to defined contribution schemes are recognized as an expense when employees have rendered the service entitling them to the contribution.

Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the Company provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Company.

The Company has maintained a Group Gratuity Cum Life Assurance Scheme with the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) towards which it annually contributes a sum determined by LIC. The liability or asset recognized in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The cost of providing benefits under the defined benefit scheme is determined using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date, which recognizes each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measure each unit separately to build up the final obligation.

The Company recognizes re-measurement gains and losses arising on defined benefit gratuity plans in other comprehensive income (OCI) as they will never be reclassified into the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b. Short-term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees is recognized as an expense during the period when the employee renders those services. These benefits include compensated absences such as leave expected to be availed within a year and performance incentives.

Q. Taxes on Income (current and deferred)

Income tax expense comprises both current and deferred tax.

a. Current income tax

Current income tax for taxable profit before tax as reported in the Statement of Profit and Loss for the periods is recognized at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date.

Income tax expense is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in equity or in other comprehensive income (OCI).

The Company offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Company recognizes interest levied and penalties related to income tax assessments in income tax expenses.

b. Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognized using the Balance Sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date and are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognized as income or expense in the period that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and carrying forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized. Deferred tax relating to items recognized outside the Statement of Profit and Loss are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in other comprehensive income (OCI) or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

R. Ind AS 116 "Leases"

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

a. As a lessee

The Company, as a lessee, recognizes a right-of-use asset (ROU) and a lease liability for its leasing arrangements, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset. The contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, if it involves the use of an identified asset and the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset and has right to direct the use of the identified asset.

The Company recognizes a ROU and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The ROU is initially measured at cost which comprise the initial amount of lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made before the commencement date. The ROU is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method of the balance lease term. In addition, the right of use asset is periodically reduced by impairment loss, if any and adjusted for certain remeasurements of lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise the amounts expected to be payable over the period of lease. The lease liability is measured at amortized cost using effective interest rate (EIR) method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from change in the index or rate.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments (including interest) have been classified as cash flows from financing activities in Cash Flow Statement.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Company has elected not to recognize right-to-use assets and lease liabilities for short term lease that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets. The Company recognize the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b. Lessor

When the Company acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease.

To classify each lease, the Company makes an overall assessment of whether the lease transfers substantially all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset. If this is the case, then the lease is a finance lease; if not, then it is an operating lease. As part of this assessment, the Company considers certain indicators such as whether the lease is for the major part of the economic life of the asset.

The Company recognizes lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Contingent rents are recognized as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

The accounting policies applicable to the Company as a lessor in the comparative period were not different from Ind AS 116.

S. Provisions, contingent liabilities, contingent assets and commitments

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.

Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

Contingent liability is disclosed in the case of:

- a present obligation arising from past events, when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation;
- a present obligation arising from past events, when no reliable estimate is possible;
- a possible obligation arising from past events, when the probability of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent liabilities are not disclosed in case the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent assets are not disclosed but recognized when economic inflow is certain.

Commitments include the amount of purchase order (net of advances) issued to parties for completion of assets.

Provisions, contingent liabilities, contingent assets and commitments are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

T. Exceptional items

Certain occasions, the size, type or incidence of an item of income or expense, pertaining to the ordinary activities of the Company is such that its disclosure improves the understanding of the performance of the Company, such income or expense is classified as an exceptional item and accordingly, disclosed in the notes accompanying to the standalone financial statements.

U. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations.

Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.

In the case of a sub-division (split), the number of ordinary shares outstanding is adjusted for the increase in shares arising from the sub-division in both the current year and comparative periods, as if the event had occurred at the beginning of the earliest year presented.

V. Dividend

The Company recognizes a liability to pay dividend to equity holders of the Company when the distribution is authorized. As per the corporate laws in India, a distribution is authorized when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognized directly in equity.

W. Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the financial statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest crore as per the requirement of Schedule III, unless otherwise stated.

During the year, the Company has changed the presentation of financial figures from INR in lakhs (₹ in lakhs) to INR in crores (₹ in crores) for ease of readability and to align with industry practice. Accordingly, the figures for previous periods have been regrouped and presented in ₹ in crores to conform to the current period presentation. This change does not have any impact on the reported profit, total equity or cash flows of the Company.

X. Events after reporting date

Where events occurring after the Balance Sheet date provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, the impact of such events is adjusted within the financial statements. Otherwise, events after the Balance Sheet date of material size or nature are only disclosed.

1.3 Key accounting estimates and Judgments

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires the management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on a periodic basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

Critical accounting estimates and assumptions:

Critical accounting estimates require consideration of higher degree of judgement or complexity and relate to items that are more likely to be materially adjusted due to changes in estimates and assumptions from those originally assessed. The key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, which have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below:

Income taxes

The Company's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgements are involved in estimating budgeted profits for the purpose of paying advance tax, determining the provision for income taxes, including amount expected to be paid/recovered for uncertain tax positions.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment represent a significant proportion of the asset base of the Company. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation/amortization is derived after determining an estimate of an asset's expected useful lives and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The useful lives and residual values of company's assets are determined by the management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed at each financial year end. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technical or commercial obsolescence arising from changes or improvements in production or from a change in market demand of the product or service output of the asset.

Defined benefit plans

The cost of the defined benefit plan and other post-employment benefits and the present value of such obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and attrition rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques which involve various judgements and assumptions.

Impairment of financial assets

The impairment provisions for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

Provisions

The timing of recognition and quantification of the liability (including litigations) requires the application of judgement to existing facts and circumstances, which can be subject to change. The carrying amounts of provisions and liabilities are reviewed regularly and revised to take account of changing facts and circumstances.

1.4 Recent Accounting Pronouncements

During the year, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2025 and the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025, which are applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2025. The Significant amendments and their impact on the Company are as follows:

(a) Amendments to Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements

The amendments clarify the criteria for classification of liabilities as current or non-current, particularly in relation to covenants attached to borrowings and the Company's right to defer settlement.

(b) Amendments to Ind AS 7 – Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107 – Financial Instruments: Disclosure

The amendments introduce new disclosure requirements for supplier finance arrangements (including reverse factoring arrangements), requiring entities to disclose information about the nature, extent, and financial impact of such arrangements.

(c) Amendments to Ind AS 12 – Income Taxes

The amendments introduce a temporary exception from recognizing deferred tax assets and liabilities related to Pillar Two income taxes and require additional disclosures regarding exposure to such taxes.

(d) Amendments to Ind AS 21 – The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates

The amendments provide guidance on determining exchange rates when a currency is not exchangeable and introduce related disclosure requirements.

(e) Other Amendments

The amendments also include certain consequential and editorial changes to other Ind AS standards, which do not have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

The Company has reviewed the new pronouncements and based on its evaluation, has determined that the new pronouncement is not applicable to the Company.

39. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTSa. Financial instruments by category

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

- Fair value of cash and short-term deposits, trade and other short term receivables, trade payables, other current liabilities and other financial institutions approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.
- Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for the expected losses of these receivables. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF MANAGEMENT AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance including other comprehensive income, consolidated changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group including its associates in accordance with Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and its associates for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company's, as aforesaid. In preparing

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates is also responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group and of its associates.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and its associates to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its associates to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group and its associates to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities or business activities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities or business activities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion. Our responsibilities in this regard are further described in 'Other Matters' section below in this audit report.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Consolidated Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Consolidated Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Consolidated Financial Statements. We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the Consolidated Financial Statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters.

We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE

(Referred to in paragraph 2(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Report on the internal financial controls under clause (i) of sub-section 3 of section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated Ind AS financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended March 31, 2026, we have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of MULTI COMMODITY EXCHANGE OF INDIA LIMITED ("the Company" or "the Holding Company") and its subsidiary and its associates, which are incorporated in India, as of that date.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding Company, its subsidiary and its associates which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the respective companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Holding Company, its subsidiary and its associates, which are companies incorporated in India, based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to consolidated financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors of the subsidiary and associates, which are companies incorporated in India, in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting of the Holding Company, its subsidiary and its associates which are companies incorporated in India.

MEANING OF INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

INHERENT LIMITATIONS OF INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

OPINION

In our opinion and based on the consideration of the audit reports of the other auditors on internal financial controls with reference to, standalone/consolidated financial statements, of its subsidiary company and its associate companies, the Holding Company, its subsidiary company and associate companies, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements criteria established by such companies considering the essential components of such internal controls stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the 'Guidance Note').

OTHER MATTER

Our aforesaid report under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements in so far as it relates to one subsidiary and two associates, which are companies incorporated in India, is based solely on the corresponding reports of the auditors of such companies incorporated in India. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Notes Forming Part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

GROUP OVERVIEW

The consolidated financial statements comprise financial statements of the Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited (the “Company” or the “Exchange”), a deemed Stock Exchange recognized under the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, and its subsidiary (collectively, the Group), and includes the share of profit of associates for the year ended March 31, 2025. The Company is a demutualized Exchange and has permanent recognition from the Government of India to facilitate nationwide online trading, clearing and settlement operations of commodity derivatives. Pursuant to SEBI approval to the Company’s wholly owned subsidiary, Multi Commodity Exchange Clearing Corporation Limited (MCXCCL) to act as the clearing corporation, the clearing and settlement division of the Company has been transferred to MCXCCL with effect from September 01, 2018.

The Holding Company is a public limited Company incorporated and domiciled in India and has its registered office at ‘Exchange Square’, Suren Road, Chakala, Andheri (East), Mumbai 400093, India. Its shares are listed on the BSE Limited. Further, in pursuance of Regulation 3.1.1 of the National Stock Exchange (Capital Market) Trading Regulations Part A and other relevant provisions, National Stock Exchange of India Limited (NSE) vide its Circular Ref No. 202/201 dated March 07, 2012 notified that with effect from March 09, 2012 the Holding Company’s equity shares were permitted to be traded and admitted to dealings on NSE.

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026, were approved by Board of Directors and authorized for issue on May 08, 2026.

1. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES, KEY ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

1.1 Basis of preparation of financial statements

These consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (hereinafter referred to as the ‘Ind AS’) as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (‘Act’) read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended) and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013, (Ind AS Compliant Schedule III), as applicable to consolidated financial statements.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared and presented under the historical cost convention, on the accrual basis of accounting except for certain financial assets, financial liabilities, and defined benefits that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period as required by relevant Ind AS, as stated in the accounting policies set out below. The accounting policies have been applied consistently over all the periods presented in these consolidated financial statements.

1.2 Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiary as at March 31, 2025. Control is achieved when the company has majority of voting rights.

The holding company re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee, if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the holding company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the holding Company loses control of the subsidiary.

Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date the holding Company gains control until the date the holding company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. If a member of the Group uses accounting policies other than those adopted in the consolidated financial statements for like transactions and events in similar circumstances, appropriate adjustments are made to that Group member’s financial statements in preparing the consolidated financial statements to ensure conformity with the Group’s accounting policies.

The financial statements of all entities used for the purpose of consolidation are drawn up to same reporting date as that of the holding Company, i.e., year ended on March 31. When the end of the reporting period of the Holding is different from that of a subsidiary, the subsidiary prepares, for consolidation purposes, additional financial information as of the same date as the financial statements of the Holding to enable the Holding to consolidate the financial information of the subsidiary, unless it is impracticable to do so.

Consolidation procedure:

- a. Combine like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the Holding with those of its subsidiary. For this purpose, income and expenses of the subsidiary are based on the amounts of the assets and liabilities recognized in the consolidated financial statements at the acquisition date.

- b. Offset (eliminate) the carrying amount of the Holding's investment in each subsidiary and the Holding's portion of equity of each subsidiary.
- c. Eliminate in full intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between entities of the Group. Intragroup losses may indicate an impairment that requires recognition in the consolidated financial statements. Ind AS 12 Income Taxes applies to temporary differences that arise from the elimination of profits and losses resulting from intragroup transactions.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income (OCI) are attributed to the equity holders of the Holding Company of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiary to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between entities of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Investment in Associate

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee, but is not control or joint control over those policies. The considerations made in determining whether significant influence or joint control are similar to those necessary to determine control over the subsidiary.

The Group's investments in its associate are accounted for using the equity method. Under the equity method, the investment in an associate is initially recognized at cost. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted to recognize changes in the Group's share of net assets of the associate since the acquisition date. In addition, the Group recognizes its share of any changes, when applicable, in the statement of changes in equity. Goodwill relating to the associate is included in the carrying amount of investment and is not tested for impairment individually. Unrealized gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and the associate are eliminated to the extent of the interest in the associate.

If Group's share of losses of an associate exceeds its interest in that associate (which includes any long term interest that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate), the Group discontinues recognizing its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognized only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate. If the associate subsequently reports profits, the Group resumes recognizing its share of those profits only after its share of the profits equals the share of losses not recognized.

The financial statements of the associate are prepared for the same reporting period as the Group. When necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with those of the Group.

Upon loss of significant influence over the associate, the Group measures and recognizes any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate upon loss of significant influence and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.3 Material accounting policies

A. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at original cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Costs directly attributable to acquisition are capitalized until the property, plant and equipment are ready for use, as intended by management.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful life, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is de-recognized when replaced.

Subsequent expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment is capitalized only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Freehold land is carried at historical cost of acquisition. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value:

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives, from the date that they are available for intended use as follows:

Asset class	Useful lives
Buildings	60 years
Office equipment	5 years
Servers & network equipment	3-6 years
Furniture and fittings	10 years
Vehicles	5 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year end, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Repairs and maintenance costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when incurred.

Derecognition of property, plant and equipment

A property, plant and equipment are derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements upon sale or disposition of the asset and the resultant gains or losses measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

B. Intangible assets

Intangible assets are recognized only if it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the assets will flow to the Group and the cost of the assets can be measured reliably. Directly attributable costs that are capitalized as part of the software include employee costs and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads. Expenditure on an intangible item is expensed when incurred unless it forms part of the cost of intangible asset that meets the recognition criteria. Intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition and are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any. Intangible assets are amortized over their respective individual estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis, from the date that they are available for intended use. Amortization methods and useful lives are reviewed at each financial year end, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

At each Balance Sheet date consideration is given to determine whether there is any indication of impairment of the carrying amounts of the Group's intangible assets. If indication exists, an asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss account whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount.

The estimated useful lives of intangible assets are as follows:

Asset class	Useful life
Computer software & licence fees	5-10 years
Trademark and copyright	6-8 years

Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. The cost and related accumulated amortization are eliminated from the financial statements and the resultant gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, and are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

Purchase of any property, plant and equipment including intangible assets below ₹1,00,000/- is capitalized and fully depreciated in the same financial year.

C. Capital work-in-progress ('CWIP') and intangible assets under development

Capital work-in-progress/intangible assets under development are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and less impairment losses, if any. Advances given to acquire property, plant and equipment are recorded as non-current assets and subsequently transferred to CWIP on acquisition of related assets.

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress and intangible assets under development until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

D. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group assesses at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired, if such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset. Impairment losses are reversed in the Statement of Profit and Loss only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined if no impairment loss had previously been recognized.

E. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and short-term deposits in the Balance Sheet comprise cash at banks, cheque on hand, short-term deposits with a maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These do not include bank balances earmarked/restricted for specific purposes.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above as they are considered an integral part of the Group's cash management.

F. Trade receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for services performed in the ordinary course of business and reflects Group's unconditional right to consideration (that is, payment is due only on the passage of time). Trade receivables are recognized initially at the transaction price as they do not contain significant financing components. The Group holds the trade receivables with the objective of collecting the contractual cash flows and therefore measures them subsequently at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less loss allowance for credit impairment.

G. Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of financial period which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognized initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

H. Cash flow statement

Cash flow statement are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated.

I. Core settlement guarantee funds

As per SEBI vide circular no. CIR/MRD/DRMNP/25/2014 dated August 27, 2014 every recognized clearing corporation shall establish and maintain a fund to guarantee the settlement of trades executed in the exchange. The clearing corporation shall have a fund called core SGF to guarantee the settlement of trades executed in the respective segment of the Stock Exchange. In the event of a clearing member failing to honour settlement commitments, the core SGF shall be used to fulfil the obligations of that member and complete the settlement without affecting the normal settlement process. The core SGF shall be contributed in a manner as prescribed by SEBI. This fund is represented by earmarked core SGF investments. The income earned on such investments is credited to the respective contributor's funds and adjusted towards incremental requirement of minimum required corpus (MRC) as per SEBI letter reference no. SEBI/HO/MRD/DRMNP/OW/P/2018/4559/1 dated February 12, 2018. Penalties and fines levied by the subsidiary Company are transferred to core SGF as other contributions.

The contribution to Settlement Guarantee Fund / Core Settlement Guarantee Fund by the Parent Company is recorded as an expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss and contribution by its clearing corporation subsidiary is recorded as an appropriation from Group's retained earnings and such amounts are separately disclosed as Core Settlement Guarantee Fund in the Consolidated balance sheet.

J. Fair value measurement

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with accounting policies at each reporting date. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- in the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.
- Level 3: Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the Balance Sheet on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

K. Financial instruments

Financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

a. Financial assets:

The Group measures its financial assets at fair value at each Balance Sheet date. In this context, quoted investments are fair valued adopting the techniques defined in level 1 of fair value hierarchy of Ind-AS 113 and unquoted investments, where the observable input is not readily available, are fair valued adopting the techniques defined in level 3 of fair value hierarchy of Ind-AS 113 and securing the valuation report from the certified valuer. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

The Group classifies a financial asset in accordance with the below criteria:

- i. The Group's business model for managing the financial asset and
- ii. The contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset.

Based on the above criteria, the Group classifies its financial assets into the following categories:

- i. Financial assets measured at amortized cost
- ii. Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- iii. Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

A financial asset is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- a. The Group's business model objective for managing the financial asset is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, and
- b. The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Amortized cost are represented by investment in interest bearing debt instruments, trade receivables, security deposits, cash and cash equivalents, employee and other advances and eligible current and non-current assets.

A financial asset is measured at FVTOCI if both of the following conditions are met:

- a. The Group's business model objective for managing the financial asset is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- b. The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

However, the Group recognizes dividend income from such instruments in the Statement of Profit and Loss and fair value changes are recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI).

A financial asset is measured at FVTPL unless it is measured at amortized cost or at FVTOCI as explained above. This is a residual category applied to all other investments of the Group. Such financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value at each reporting date. Fair value changes are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets are measured initially at fair value plus transaction costs and subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment loss.

Target maturity funds

The Group intends to hold its investment in open ended target maturity funds till maturity. It may be noted that these funds have a pre-determined maturity date. These funds follow a passive buy and hold strategy; in which the existing underlying investment bonds are expected to be held till maturity unless sold for meeting redemptions or rebalancing requirements as stated in the scheme document. In our view, such strategy mitigates intermittent price volatility in open ended target maturity funds' underlying investments; and investors who remain invested until maturity are expected to mitigate the market/volatility risk to a large extent. These funds can invest only in plain vanilla INR bonds with fixed coupon and maturity; and cannot invest in floating rate bonds. Based on this, the Group believes that the investments in open ended target maturity funds meet the requirements of SPPI test as per the requirements of Ind AS 109.

Earmarked funds

Earmarked Funds represent deposits, margins, etc. held for specific purposes. These amounts are invested and the same are earmarked in the Balance Sheet. Investment income earned on financial instrument measured at amortized cost is credited to respective earmarked liabilities and not credited to the Statement of Profit and Loss. The gain/ (loss) on fair Value of the investments from these earmarked funds are shown as liabilities/asset and are not routed through the Statement of Profit and Loss.

De-recognition

Financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a Group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognized (i.e. removed from the Group's Balance Sheet) when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement and either;
 - a. The Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or
 - b. The Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

On De-recognition of a financial asset (except for financial assets measured at FVTOCI), the difference between the carrying amount and the consideration received is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses impairment based on expected credit losses (ECL) model to the following:

- Financial assets measured at amortized cost

- Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- Financial assets measure at fair value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL)

Expected credit losses are measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- The 12-months expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date); or
- Full lifetime expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument).

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Group determines whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-months ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the Group reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-months ECL.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the year is recognized as income/ expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the Group combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

b. Financial liabilities:

The Group recognizes a financial liability in its Balance Sheet when it becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

All non-current financial liabilities of the Group are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Under the effective interest method, the future cash payments are exactly discounted to the initial recognition value using the effective interest rate. The cumulative amortization using the effective interest method of the difference between the initial recognition amount and the maturity amount is added to the initial recognition value (net of principal repayments, if any) of the financial liability over the relevant period of the financial liability to arrive at the amortized cost at each reporting date. The corresponding effect of the amortization under effective interest method is recognized as interest expense over the relevant period of the financial liability. The same is included under finance cost in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

De-recognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or the counterparty.

L. Revenue recognition

The Group has applied Ind AS 115 Revenue from Contracts with customers which establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is to be recognized.

The Group derives revenue primarily from commodity services mainly in the form of transaction charges, data feed income, warehouse income and connectivity charges. The Group recognizes revenue when the significant terms of the arrangement are enforceable, services have been delivered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The method for recognizing revenues depends on the nature of services rendered. Revenue is recognized on accrual basis and when no significant uncertainty as to measurement and realization exists.

The Group considers the terms of the contract in determining the transaction price. The transaction price is based upon the amount the Group expects to be entitled to in exchange for transferring of promised services to the customer after deducting allowances and incentives such as discounts, volume rebates etc. Revenue excludes any taxes and duties collected on behalf of the government.

- a. Transaction charges: Transaction fee is charged based on the volume of transactions entered into by the respective member or client of the member through the Exchange. Revenue is recognized on transactions in accordance with the Group's fees scales as and when the transaction occurs.
- b. Data feed income, warehouse income and connectivity charges: revenue is recognized over the period of the contract with the customer. The revenue is calculated based on the specified charges for data feed provided and is recognized in the period in which the performance obligation is satisfied.
- c. Interest income: Interest income is recognized, when no significant uncertainty as to measurability or collectability exists, on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate. The amounts disclosed as revenue are net of taxes and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.
- d. Profit on sale of investments: Profit on sale of investments is determined as the difference between the sales price and carrying value of investments at the time of disposal of these investments.
- e. Other: all other revenue is recognized in the period in which the performance obligation is satisfied over a period of time or point in time.

In respect of members who have been declared as defaulters by the Group, all amounts (dues) remaining to be recovered from such defaulters, net of available security and insurance cover available if any, till the date of being declared as defaulters are written off as bad debts. All subsequent recoveries are accounted when received.

M. Foreign currency translation

The financial statements are presented in Indian rupee (₹), which is Group's functional and presentation currency. Transactions in foreign currencies are recognized at the prevailing exchange rates on the transaction dates. Realized gains and losses on settlement of foreign currency transactions are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rates and the resultant exchange differences are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Notes Forming Part of the Consolidated Financial Statements (Contd.)

N. Current and non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle (twelve months) and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Act.

Operating Cycle:

Based on the nature of products / activities of the Group and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realization in cash or cash equivalents, the Group has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

O. Employee benefits expenses
a. Post-employment benefits and other long term benefits
Defined contribution plans

The Group pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered Provident Funds as per local regulations. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. Payments to defined contribution schemes are recognized as an expense when employees have rendered the service entitling them to the contribution.

Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the Company provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Company.

The Company has maintained a Group Gratuity Cum Life Assurance Scheme with the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) towards which it annually contributes a sum determined by LIC. The liability or asset recognized in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The cost of providing benefits under the defined benefit scheme is determined using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date, which recognizes each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measure each unit separately to build up the final obligation.

The Group recognizes re-measurement gains and losses arising on defined benefit gratuity plans in other comprehensive income (OCI) as they will never be reclassified into profit or loss.

b. Short-term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees is recognized as an expense during the period when the employee renders those services. These benefits include compensated absences such as leave expected to be availed within a year and performance incentives.

P. Taxes on Income (current and deferred)

Income tax expense comprises both current and deferred tax.

a. Current income tax

Current income tax for taxable profit before tax as reported in the Statement of Profit and Loss for the periods is recognized at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date.

Income tax expense is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in equity or in other comprehensive income (OCI).

The Group offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Group recognizes interest levied and penalties related to income tax assessments in income tax expenses.

b. Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognized using the Balance Sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date and are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognized as income or expense in the period that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and carrying forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized. Deferred tax relating to items recognized outside the Statement of Profit and Loss are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in other comprehensive income (OCI) or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

Q. Ind AS 116 "Leases"

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

a. Group as a lessee
Right-of-use assets:

The Group recognizes right-of-use assets ("RoU assets") at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognized, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets. If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset. The right-of-use assets are also subject to impairment.

Lease liabilities:

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognizes lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognized as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be read after the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset. Lease liabilities has been presented under the head "Other financial liabilities".

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise the amounts expected to be payable over the period of lease. The lease liability is measured at amortized cost using effective interest rate method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from change in the index or rate.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments (including interest) have been classified as cash flows from financing activities in Cash Flow Statement.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b. Group as a lessor

Leases in which the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income from operating lease is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Contingent rents are recognized as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

R. Provisions, contingent liabilities, contingent assets and commitments

A provision is recognized when the Group has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.

Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

Contingent liability is disclosed in the case of:

- a present obligation arising from past events, when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation;
- a present obligation arising from past events, when no reliable estimate is possible;
- a possible obligation arising from past events, when the probability of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent liabilities are not disclosed in case the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent assets are not disclosed but recognized when economic inflow is certain.

Commitments include the amount of purchase order (net of advances) issued to parties for completion of assets.

Provisions, contingent liabilities, contingent assets and commitments are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

S. Exceptional items

Certain occasions, the size, type or incidence of an item of income or expense, pertaining to the ordinary activities of the Group is such that its disclosure improves the understanding of the performance of the Group, such income or expense is classified as an exceptional item and accordingly, disclosed in the notes accompanying to the financial statements.

T. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.

In the case of a sub-division (split), the number of ordinary shares outstanding is adjusted for the increase in shares arising from the sub-division in both the current year and comparative periods, as if the event had occurred at the beginning of the earliest year presented.

U. Dividend

The Holding Company recognizes a liability to pay dividend to equity holders of the Holding Company when the distribution is authorized. As per the corporate laws in India, a distribution is authorized when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognized directly in equity.

V. Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the financial statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest crore as per the requirement of Schedule III, unless otherwise stated.

Notes Forming Part of the Consolidated Financial Statements (Contd.)

During the year, the Group has changed the presentation of financial figures from INR in lakhs (₹ in lakhs) to INR in crores (₹ in crores) for ease of readability and to align with industry practice. Accordingly, the figures for previous periods have been regrouped and presented in ₹ in crores to conform to the current period presentation.

This change does not have any impact on the reported profit, total equity or cash flows of the Group.

W. Events after reporting date

Where events occurring after the Balance Sheet date provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, the impact of such events is adjusted within the financial statements. Otherwise, events after the Balance Sheet date of material size or nature are only disclosed.

1.4 Key accounting estimates and Judgments

The preparation of the Group's consolidated financial statements requires the management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on a periodic basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

Critical accounting estimates and assumptions:

Critical accounting estimates require consideration of higher degree of judgement or complexity and relate to items that are more likely to be materially adjusted due to changes in estimates and assumptions from those originally assessed. The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, which have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below:

Income taxes

The Group's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgements are involved in estimating budgeted profits for the purpose of paying advance tax, determining the provision for income taxes, including amount expected to be paid/recovered for uncertain tax positions.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment represent a significant proportion of the asset base of the Group. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived after determining an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The useful lives and residual values of Group's assets are determined by the management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed at each financial year end. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technical or commercial obsolescence arising from changes or improvements in production or from a change in market demand of the product or service output of the asset.

Defined benefit plans

The cost of the defined benefit plan and other post-employment benefits and the present value of such obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and attrition rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques which involve various judgements and assumptions.

Impairment of financial assets

The impairment provisions for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Group's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

Provisions

The timing of recognition and quantification of the liability (including litigations) requires the application of judgement to existing facts and circumstances, which can be subject to change. The carrying amounts of provisions and liabilities are reviewed regularly and revised to take account of changing facts and circumstances.

1.5 Recent Accounting Pronouncements

During the year, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2025 and the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025, which are applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2025. The Significant amendments and their impact on the Group are as follows:

(a) Amendments to Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements

The amendments clarify the criteria for classification of liabilities as current or non-current, particularly in relation to covenants attached to borrowings and the Group's right to defer settlement.

(b) Amendments to Ind AS 7 – Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107 – Financial Instruments: Disclosure

The amendments introduce new disclosure requirements for supplier finance arrangements (including reverse factoring arrangements), requiring entities to disclose information about the nature, extent, and financial impact of such arrangements.

(c) Amendments to Ind AS 12 – Income Taxes

The amendments introduce a temporary exception from recognizing deferred tax assets and liabilities related to Pillar Two income taxes and require additional disclosures regarding exposure to such taxes.

(d) Amendments to Ind AS 21 – The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates

The amendments provide guidance on determining exchange rates when a currency is not exchangeable and introduce related disclosure requirements.

(e) Other Amendments

The amendments also include certain consequential and editorial changes to other Ind AS standards, which do not have a material impact on the Group's financial statements.

The Group has reviewed the new pronouncements and based on its evaluation, has determined that the new pronouncement is not applicable to the Group.

40. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS
a. Financial instruments by category

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

1. Fair value of cash and short-term deposits, trade and other short term receivables, trade payables, other current liabilities and other financial institutions approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.
2. Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Group based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for the expected losses of these receivables. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

The carrying value and fair value of financial instruments by categories as at March 31, 2026 were as follows:

Individual risk limits are set and periodically reviewed on the basis of such information. The maximum exposure to the credit risk at the reporting date is primarily from trade receivables amounting to ₹63.98 crores and ₹28.86 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively, unbilled revenue amounting to ₹34.85 crores and ₹15.50 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively, non-current investments amounting to ₹1,568.93 crores and ₹874.08 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively, current investments amounting to ₹1,380.37 crores and ₹527.18 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively, other non-current financial assets amounting to ₹1,332.33 crores and ₹343.01 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively, cash and cash equivalents amounting to ₹819.76 crores and ₹338.61 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively and bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents amounting to ₹1,717.14 crores and ₹1563.06 crores as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively.
